CONGRESSMAN M'CALL ON MR. ROOSEVELT

In declining a call to the presidency of Dartmouth college Congressman McCall aired his own egotism while denouncing ex-President Roosevelt. He declined to go to college work because he thought he was more needed in the national movement toward sanity and safety. He hopes to see the day when the caprices of an autocrat would not take the place of constitutional constraint. And he made the stab plainer when he expressed the fear that "some chance barbarian as an autocrat might overturn our temples and do more harm in the direction of uncivilizing the country than all our colleges together could possibly repair."

The egotism of the Boston congressman is but a single indication of the calumny that befalls each American president as his successor is elected. He is respected, even feared, up to the day of election, but when that is passed all feel free to turn against him. Congressman McCall and a score more have been trying to put Mr. Roosevelt in a hole ever since the session of congress just ended was begun. They accomplished but little. None of them, however, displayed so much egotism as the Massachusetts congressman.

As a cold matter of fact Mr. McCall's chance autocrat goes out of office with a larger following than any of his predecessors ever enjoyed, not excepting Andrew Jackson. Mr. McCall should tone down his own estimate of himself.

QUALITIES OF KITCHEN MECHANIC ENUMERATED

PROSPECT OF $12 PER HAS GREAT ATTRACTIONS FOR HASH ARTIST.

A rather belated answer to the advertisement appearing in Thursday's issue of the Bonanza, whereby a cook was wanted by a prominent business man of this town, was received at this office yesterday from a "kitchen mechanic" of more than ordinary ability and is as follows:

"I have read with pleasure C. B's. ad in your paper and inclose this letter in answer to the same:

"In reply to your lucid and lengthy ad in this morning's issue of the Bonanza, I beg to offer myself as a candidate for the position. My qualifications are as follows: I have taken a post graduate course in Tonopah's Chef-d'oeuvre-Hash also. I should like you to try my burro salad (receipt for same cheerfully furnished on application), my sagebrush soufflet which I consider second to none for cheapness, lightness and durability. I have also mastered the intricacies of table waiting in Tonopah, and whether you use your knife and fork Kansas City style or a la Tonopah, I am equal to both styles. The dexterity with which some of the "elite" of Tonopah swirl their empty plates toward the center of the table always calls forth my profoundest admiration. It would make a professional discus thrower of ancient Greece turn green with envy if he were to see it. I have no young man, so you can readily see the enormous saving in light and fuel which you so generously omitted to mention in your ad of this morning. I should also supply my own towels, soap and kitchen tablecloths, as I have noticed these are at a premium in Tonopah. I may also add I have economy in the household reduced almost to a science, and am thinking of giving the secretary of the navy some pointers on same, in order that he may be able to curtail the wicked waste of public money in useless navy yards, Mare Island, for example.

"The prospect of $12 per without the possibility of its being reduced during my term in "office" is too alluring to let pass without making some effort to secure it.

"Yours truly,
"A TONOPAH COOK."

WILL BRING SUIT TO RECOVER COUNTY FUNDS

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS DECIDE TO PROCEED AGAINST BANK.

The board of county commissioners met yesterday and considered the matter of recovering the county funds that were deposited in the Nye and Ormsby County bank. After debating over the subject for the entire day they finally notified the district attorney to proceed in a legal manner to recover the money, amounting to something near $66,000.

Today District Attorney Baker will demand the money from County Treasurer Gilbert, who in turn will demand the above sum from the bank. From that on the manner to be pursued is unknown, but the first steps are in legal conformity as prescribed in the statutes of Nevada. In all probability suit will be brought against the bank officials, similar to the action taken by the county commissioners of Esmeralda who have instituted suit against the Nye and Ormsby County bank.

SAFE CASE MAY BE FINISHED THIS AFTERNOON

DEFENSE RESTS AND PLAINTIFF'S WITNESS TAKES THE STAND IN REBUTTAL.

The famous safe case that has been occupying the district court for the past two weeks is apparently nearing the end. Yesterday the defense finished their case after placing C. C. Beck, C. F. Wittenberg and J. S. McQuillan on the stand. The plaintiff in rebuttal called J. F. Waterhouse to the stand and he was testifying at the time court adjourned. There is a possibility of the case being finished and turned over to the jury today.

AWFUL MISTAKE MADE LAST NIGHT BY JAMES HALEY

POPULAR STATE OFFICIAL'S MISTAKE NEARLY CAUSES HIS DEATH.

James F. Haley, state bullion and tax collector, last evening had what might be called a narrow escape from death. James has been working real hard of late and on many nights has labored until dawn. As a consequence he has been troubled with insomnia. Just before retiring last night to his apartments in the Mizpah hotel, James consulted a doctor who prescribed some kind of a white powder which was guaranteed to make the state official snore in the sleep of the innocent.

When James was ready to retire he took a dose from what he thought was the bottle of powder recently purchased. And then a horrible light dawned upon him. In his grip were two bottles exactly like the one containing the sleeping draught. One contained strychnine and the other salts. And Haley thought he had taken the strychnine. With a yell that woke every guest in the hotel, he fell to the floor in a semi-fainting condition. A doctor was summoned but by the time of his arrival Haley discovered that he had made a mistake for instead of taking either the sleep dope or the strychnine, he had swallowed the salts. SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS ARE ARRESTED

POLICE ARREST TWO 'PONEY JEWELRY PEDDLERS ON SUSPICION.

Chief of Police Malley and Captain Ed Walsh yesterday arrested two suspicious characters who have been lounging around the saloons of this city for several days. When searched at the city jail phony gold nuggets which had been made into pins and three skeleton keys were found. Both men refused to divulge their names when questioned, and it is the opinion of the officers that they have past records. It was learned later that they had been around town trying to sell the bogus gold pins, for a test revealed the fact that they were composed of brass.

The card of a Red Bluff, California, jeweler was found, which announced the fact that pins could be secured for the small sum of 50 cents each or $4 a dozen. It is not known if any of the pins were sold to unsuspecting citizens, and if they were any who happened to bite it is not likely will complain about being stung.

Both men will be tried today in the justice court.

STOCK MARKET

Local stocks experienced a slight decline yesterday. Tonopah Mining fell 12 1/2 points, while Extension dropped from .65 to .63. Belmont also came down 1 point. The remainder of the stocks were unaffected. Yesterday's quotations were:
